

XM Radio notified its subscribers that the National Association of Broadcasters is trying to limit the material XM is allowed to broadcast. My wife and I are retired and frequently travel by auto between our homes in PA and NC as well as other U.S. trips. We subscribed to XM early in 2004 and we are overwhelmed with the quality of programming they provide. It has made travel more pleasant. We are against any attempt to restrict this station in an effort to try to get us to listen to the substandard junk and commercials on regular AM and FM stations.

We bring XM into our homes and only listen to regular radio for specific local news.

Sinceely,

Donald E. Nickol
